

Case Western Reserve University
Department of Theater
at Maltz Performing Arts Center
2022-23 Season

Blood at the Root by Dominique Morisseau

Kalberer Theatre

October 7-16, 2022

Directed by Lehlabile Davhana (MA Thesis Project)

Based on the true story of the Jena Six, this powerful play examines the miscarriage of justice, the double standards of race, and the inequities of power.

Cymbeline by William Shakespeare

Roe Green Theatre

November 11-20, 2022

Directed by Donald Carrier

In what many scholars believe was one of Shakespeare's final plays, the Bard explores deceit, seduction, and familial strife in the life of one of Britain's ancient kings.

Dancing at Lughnasa by Brian Friel

Kalberer Theatre

February 24-March 5, 2023

Directed by Lara Mielcarek

This memory play is told through the eyes of Michael, the narrator, as he recounts the struggles and the joys of a summer at his aunts' cottage in County Donegal in 1936.

Almost, Maine by John Cariani

Roe Green Theatre

April 14-23, 2023

Directed by David Vegh

The inhabitants of rural New England experience the delights and doldrums of romantic love in this charming comedy, composed of nine starry-eyed vignettes.